

1st International Workshop on Advanced MALDI Methods

9th March 2016 - Copenhagen, Denmark

We are pleased to invite you to participate in the 1st International Workshop on Advanced MALDI Methods, to be held in Copenhagen - Denmark, 9th March 2016.

This workshop is mainly intended for scientists, industry, and stakeholders with interest in bacterial identification and subtyping and MALDI Mass Spectrometry Imaging.

The workshop will address all aspects of Mass spectrometry and biological samples and is hosted by National Veterinary Institute, Technical University of Denmark.

For program and registration, please contact Professor Peter M.H. Heegaard and PhD Student Bettina Nonnemann at benon@vet.dtu.dk

The workshop will be an excellent opportunity for networking, exchange of ideas and presentation of latest knowledge in the field.

The Organizing Committee looks forward to welcome you.

